Christine Lee Shun works on the YM&C Board Governance, School Defense, and Facilities Teams. She brings over a decade of experience across legal, policy, and innovation partnerships.

Christine's diverse background includes serving as a Trade Commissioner at the Consulate of Canada in Silicon Valley, where she helped to promote bilateral trade and support Canadian companies with market expansion into California. Christine was also a staff attorney at a legal aid organization in San Francisco where she focused on landlord and tenant law.

During law school, Christine represented USF at the Thomas Tang National Moot Court Competition where she won the Best Speaker Award in the Western Regionals. She also served as Co-Chair of the Asian Pacific American Law Students Association (APALSA) Conference in the Bay Area. Christine is a proud alumnus of the Street Law Program, where she taught a semester-long course in law and democracy to English Language Learners at Abraham Lincoln High School in San Francisco.
